

CONTENTS

Mykola Riabchuk (Riabczuk), The Turning Point of 2014: From ‘Two Ukraines’ to One Civic Nation?	3
Ola Hnatiuk, Waiting for Europe: From the Orange Revolution to the Euromaidan (2004–2014)	27
Wołodymyr Skłokin, The Dispute over the Role of History in the Public Sphere in Contemporary Ukraine	47

*

Dariusz Wojakowski, The Ukrainian Nation As an Object of General Misunderstanding	63
Alla Karnaukh, National Consciousness in a Changing Ukrainian Society	85
Anna Wylegała, Divided or Diversified? Further Thoughts on Social Memory in Ukraine (in the Context of Identity)	99
Tomasz Stryjek, The Debate on De-Communization in Ukraine in 2015: How Politicians ‘Won’ Against Intellectuals	117
Ola Linkiewicz, ‘This Ukraine, It’s Always at War and at War...’: Concepts of the Past in Social Life in Western Ukraine after 1991	147
Marta Studenna-Skrucka, Ukrainian Russian-Language Patriotism: On Change in the Function of the Russian Language in Ukraine as a Result of the Euromaidan and War in the Donbass	165
Grzegorz Demel, Where Are the Homelands of Western Ukrainian Russians?	183
Joanna Konieczna-Sałamatin, The ‘Hard-to-Say’ Party in Ukraine: What Refraining from Answering Survey Questions Says About Ukrainian Society	199

*

Tadeusz Andrzej Olszański, What the Revolution of Dignity Revealed	215
Andrzej Szeptycki, Polish Media on Ukraine (The Start of a Discussion)	229
Tomasz Kizwalter, Ukraine, Russia, and the Question of Peripherality	239

FACTS, ISSUES, DISCUSSIONS

Grzegorz Motyka, A Discussion of the Politics of Memory	247
--	-----

*

Books Review	257
--------------------	-----