

CONTENTS

Robert Pyka, Culture as a Factor of Urban Resilience in Former Industrial Cities Belonging to the UNESCO Creative Cities Network: The Case of Katowice and Saint-Étienne . . .	3
Paweł Kubicki, Bożena Gierat-Bieroń, Joanna Orzechowska-Waślawska, The Competition for European Capital of Culture as a Factor of Change: The Experience of Polish Cities	27
Jacek Gądecki, Municipal Libraries as a “Third Place” and the Deglomeration of Culture: Findings from a Study of the Municipal Library Network in Kraków	47
Marek Nowak, Piotr Firych, The “In-Between City” and Participation in Culture: Examples from Poznań and the Tri-City	63
Dawid Krysiński, Jolanta Banaś, Between an Unsuccessful Provocation and Model Integration: On the Renaissance of Art-Based Social Activation	83
Kamilla Biskupska, Beyond Collective Memory—The Social Dimensions of Remembering a City: An Outline of the Issue Using the Example of the “Wrocław, Remember...” Project	103
Marcjanna Nóżka, Marta Smagacz-Poziemska, On Borders and Differentiations in Housing Settlements, through the Prism of Social Practices	121
Karol Kurnicki, Dividing Space—Bordering Practices: Parking, Property, and Belonging in Polish Housing Settlements	143
Barbara Lewicka, “Nighthawks,” or “Urbanism as a Way of Life”: Edward Hopper’s Painting and Louis Wirth’s Idea	169
Małgorzata Kubacka, Home as an Emotional Place	191
*
Books Review	209