

Contents

Preface	5
Why did Poland not have an oligarchy? Paweł Kowal's interview with Leszek Balcerowicz	7
OLIGARCHY AFTER THE TRANSFORMATION
Maciej Bałtowski, Stefan Sękowski Why there is no oligarchy in Poland?	19
Maxim Rust The post-Soviet oligarchisation of Ukraine and Belarus: processes, mechanisms, perspectives	39
Kerry Longhurst Structural distortions: re-examining state capture in Moldova and apprising its persistence and effects	67
Kinga Bacewicz Oligarchy and parliamentary elections in the Republic of Moldova in 2019	95
RUSSIA AND ITS NEIGHBOURS
Jakub Wódka Turkish policy vis-à-vis the Black Sea – relations with Ukraine and soft balancing against Russia	131
Agnieszka Legucka Disinformation as part of the information war of the Russian Federation: assumptions and effectiveness	159
Andrzej Szeptycki The state of research on contemporary Polish-Russian relations	187
ECONOMY AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
Małgorzata Wróblewska The most favoured nation clause in tax matters from the perspective of the EU and the GATT	223
Ewa Radomska Directions for developing the global technology and innovation cluster Greater Bay Area in China: the current state and prospects	253
HISTORY OF DIPLOMACY
Aneta Nisiobęcka A contribution to the history of cultural diplomacy of the Second Polish Republic in France. The commitment of France-Pologne to the Polish-French cultural and scientific exchange from 1919 to 1940 (selected aspects)	279
REVIEWS AND DISCUSSIONS
Maja Biernacka Piotr Kobza, Emancypacja Europy. Stosunki Unii Europejskiej i Stanów Zjednoczonych [‘The Emancipation of Europe: Relations between The European Union and The United States’], Wydawnictwo Naukowe „Scholar”, Warszawa 2020	317